

Hi Sylvia,

I really enjoyed talking to you at the show in Orlando. I wanted to drop you a note especially to thank you for the reading tool.

I had my mother over for dinner tonight. I left the tools on the kitchen island and casually shared them with her, showing her how they worked. I couldn't believe how fast she responded to them. She was thrilled and immediately accepted my offer to give her one! She said that it made reading the type so much easier. She was so visibly excited that I could hardly believe my eyes. Thank you so much for sharing.

I kept the extra one at my house just incase she misplaced hers. (Thanks for giving me two.) She immediately placed it by her chair with her book when she got home. Pretty amazing, these little things.

Thanks so much.
